Ryan Hansen
Roseville High School

Greetings Ryan Hansen,

As part of a University Honors Program sponsored research project, our research team has asked a group of top student scholars and student leaders to anonymously identify and describe the secondary education teachers that they believe best exemplified “transformative teachers” – teachers that help to transform the lives of their students. We are pleased to confirm that you are one of the teachers identified in this project.

In recognition of what you have meant to one of our valued students, we would like to present you with a certificate of appreciation for what you have done and to encourage you in your future efforts as an educator.

Your teaching makes a difference!

Sincerely,
